

Limited Lifetime Warranty

Alco Ventures is very proud of our product engineering and quality powder coat finish. There are, however, extreme environmental conditions that our ProBuilt product is not designed to meet.

- If your site location regularly experiences winds gusting over 60 MPH (100 KPH) you will need to consult a local professional engineering firm to determine if our product is suitable for your application. Your ProBuilt Dealer can supply you with engineering data to make this task easier.
- If your site location is exposed to heavy salt air conditions (eg: within a mile of open ocean) particularly in tropical climates, our powder coating will not be covered by this warranty.
